The 2006 State conference provides you with an opportunity to meet with other outdoor educators and discuss the current issues and trends of outdoor education in our State. It is an opportunity to contribute to, and learn from your peers in the outdoor industry.

The 2006 QLD state conference has a number of interesting and relevant topics for all those who are involved, or would like to be involved, in Outdoor Education. Conference sessions for the two days include:

Industry forum—Valuing communication across the sector, establishing links between students, freelancers and government/commercial operators.

Outdoor Education in the Information Age—Valuing information technology when operating in the field

Implicit Values of Outdoor Education—What are the implicit values we teach through Outdoor Education

Community Relations—Case study: how to involve your community to build a ropes course at your local school

Building on our Skills Base—Rescue principles, putting the theory into action (4 hr rescue scenario)

The Value of light weight gear—Do we have to carry heavy packs, what are the alternatives?

Outdoor Education and Activism—A ‘win win’ for all
